

Personal Injury

An unexpected accident can have life-altering consequences. If you or a loved one has been injured due to someone else's negligence, it's critical to have an experienced legal advocate on your side. As a Pennsylvania personal injury lawyer, I represent clients throughout the state who have been hurt in car accidents, truck and motorcycle crashes, slip and fall incidents, workplace injuries, and other serious accidents.

Injuries can lead to mounting medical bills, lost income, and emotional stress. Insurance companies often try to minimize or deny claims, leaving victims at a disadvantage. Our firm helps clients navigate this complex process, gathering evidence, negotiating with insurers, and pursuing full compensation for medical expenses, lost wages, pain and suffering, and other damages.

We understand that every personal injury case is unique. That's why we take the time to listen to your story, evaluate the circumstances of your accident, and develop a strategy tailored to your needs. Whether through skilled negotiation or litigation, our goal is to maximize your recovery and protect your rights.

No Fee Unless You Recover: Our firm works on a contingency fee basis, which means you don't pay any attorney fees unless we successfully recover money for you. This ensures that our interests are fully aligned with yours—your recovery comes first.
